

Harvey Beef Gate 2 Plate Challenge celebrates 10 years

The Harvey Beef Gate 2 Plate Challenge will mark a major milestone in 2024 as it celebrates its 10th year of competition.

And with the 10th anniversary celebrations will come some exciting changes that the committee believes will revitalise the well-known and popular beef event.

Teams in the 2024 Harvey Beef Gate 2 Plate Challenge will now be made up of steers. Each team will consist of four (4) steers with the best three (3) steers in each team being scored, allowing for teams who have an underperforming animal to still be competitive in the Challenge. Competitors also have the option of entering a team of 3 steers. Proceeds for all team animals will be paid to the producer.

Competitors retain ownership of the cattle throughout the Harvey Beef Gate 2 Plate Challenge and receive proceeds for all the animals entered, after processing through the Coles supply chain.

As always, the key focus for all involved in the Harvey Beef Gate 2 Plate Challenge is to provide a relevant and insightful competition for WA beef producers and these changes will add a new dimension to the event while still providing that valuable feedback and data that the event has offered over the past nine years.

Those important opportunities to network, educate and develop strong industry relationships will also remain and the committee is confident this new format will not affect the integrity of the Harvey Beef Gate 2 Plate Challenge but will make it an even better competition to be involved in.

To enter the Challenge there is an initial entry cost of $500. Once again, Elders will finance the remaining entry fee for the period of the competition at no cost to entrants. The remaining entry fee will then be deducted from the proceeds of the cattle after processing.

Entries to the 2024 Harvey Beef Gate 2 Plate Challenge have now opened and can be made via the website www.gate2platechallenge.com.au

LOGISTICS CONTINUED

- Cattle will remain at the Mount Barker Regional Saleyards on hay/silage and water for up to five days after which they will be trucked to Willyung Farms Feedlot to begin the grain finishing period.
- The cattle will be on feed for approximately 85 days. Please note that whilst it is our intention to keep to the days on feed stated above, they may be subject to slight changes to work in with feedlot, transport and processor logistics.
- The ration will be approved by an accredited nutritionist as being suitable for growing and preparing cattle to meet the destination market specifications.

TREATMENTS

All cattle will receive the following treatments on arrival at Willyung Farms Feedlot: Dectomax V Injectable (Zoetis), Rhinoguard (Zoetis), Bovishield MH-1 (Zoetis), Websters 5:1 Vaccine with B12 (Virbac), Multimin Evolution (Virbac), Fly Treatment (Nutrien). It is the owners' responsibility to administer any other vaccinations which they think are necessary to assist in maintaining the full health of their animals whilst on the feedlot. Cattle that require treatment for health issues on the feedlot quickly become unprofitable through reduced rate of gain as well as the cost of treatment. Note that points for the feedlot section are based on profitability.

No competitors are to arrive unannounced at Willyung Farms Feedlot. Cattle can be viewed at the field day. Competitors arriving unannounced at the feedlot will have points deducted and will be removed from the competition.
